Award-Winning Agent

Judy Levin
I believe a home is more than a house. It is a state of being. A home provides space and shelter not just for bodies, but for the human spirit. When I work with a family to purchase a new home that is the thought I keep in mind when I assist them in making their dreams come true.

Comprehensive Information

Ability to view all of your virtual tours in one location

As a real estate agent, your connection with potential home buyers depends largely on your ability to provide them with comprehensive information immediately. We are continually looking for ways to make this process more efficient and effective for you. Our new customizable agent website program does just that. Besides being incredibly easy to use, these sites can be tailored for you within minutes to be as unique as the homes you showcase. Best of all, each virtual tour that is shot for you will be automatically populated to this website.

By simply logging into a management section, you can easily change the colors, pictures, text, templates, add or delete various pages, manually add listings (other than the ones already being automatically populated), add Google Analytics, and more. This is the perfect solution for those of you who have extra domain names that are not currently in use! Take a moment to visit us online to view the sample agent site shown above. We're confident you'll be excited about this new program. Call to learn more.
